County Agent Notes

CORN FOR 1956

Recommended varieties of corn, planted at recommended seeding rates and dates and with adequate fertilizer is profitable.

Here are some Agricultural Experiment Station recommendations for 1956:

Hancock County: Dixie 18, Coker 8811, and Louisiana 521. For early hogging off in Hancock County use Dixie 17, 22, 23 or PAG 631.

A good silage corn is Dixie 18.

Corn should be planted on a good seedbed on reasonably deep well-drained soil. Avoid steep, drouthy and eroded hill sides. Plant just before cotton planting time.

Space plants 14 to 15 inches apart in rows 40 to 42 inches. This will require around a peck of seed per acre.

Fertilize according to local analysis, or consult your local county agent for general recommendation.

SOCIAL SECURITY FOR FARMERS

Self employed farmers can become eligible for Social Security benefits as early as April of this year, if they have earned as much as $400 from farming in 1955 and so far this year.

However, along with this goes the responsibility of reporting farm earnings and paying the 3 percent Social Security tax not later than April 15, 1956. Payments should be made as soon as possible after January 1.

The form for making the report and paying the tax comes with the Federal Income Tax Return. If your net earnings from farming were as much as $400 in 1955, you must fill out and file his return and pay the Social Security Tax. This is true even if you do not owe any Federal Income Tax for 1955.

Farmers 65 years old and older can retire after March 1956 and start getting monthly old-age insurance benefits provided they have not met the earning requirements and paid their tax. Other farmers, regardless of age, will get family protection in form of monthly payments to surviving dependents, provided they have met the requirements.

Further information on Social Security taxes may be obtained at your nearest Internal Revenue Service Office.

PROPER MILKING

If you do not get all the milk out of cows under, you start drying her up. Here are some suggestions for making your milking herd pay higher dividends.

Avoid exciting cows before and during milking. Excitement blocks the letdown stimulus. For best results, the cow must be relaxed and enjoy milking.

Stimulate let-down one minute before beginning to milk. This will let the milk flow more on its first pulsation. Do not stimulate milk let-down more than two minutes before milking because that can cause damage.

Massage the teats and the lower part of the udder in warm water. You can use a spray cup for additional stimulus, but you should start milking as soon as the milk has been let down.

Make sure that your milking equipment is in good repair. Defective equipment can cause trouble and lose your money.

Colmer Squenches Partisan Squabble On Foreign Policy

Washington, D. C.—(Special)—Congressman Wm. M. Colmer (D-Miss.) was given credit today by observers for squelching a partisan wrangle in the House over American foreign policy touched off by comments on Secretary of State Dulles' "brink of war" statement as reported in Life Magazine.

"What good purpose is served by going back and digging up skeletons if skeletons there be, about who is responsible and who is not responsible for what has gone before?" Colmer interrupted the debate to ask. "So far as the foreign policy of this Administration and the preceding Administration is concerned, there is no difference. This Administration has followed the policy of the previous Administration in dealing with the Communists. That policy is and has been all along to permit the Kremlin to call the signals and we run the defensive plays."

The Mississippi Congressman called the partisan debate "unfortunate, election year or no election year." "The people of this country," he continued, "are more interested in the preservation of the Republic than they are in the election of a Republican or a Democratic President."

"The thing that we want to do in this country, is to place the future of the country in our hands and quit this knocking and bickering on both sides. Such discord can only serve the enemy."

On a note of approval of those sentiments the debate sputtered and died.

New Selective Service Regulations To Provide For Persons With Skills

New Selective Service Regulations to provide for selection for enlistment in the Ready Reserve of persons with critical skills have been published. It was disclosed today by Colonel J. W. Patton, Jr., State Director of Selective Service for Mississippi.

The new Regulations are incorporated in Executive Orders issued by the President in accordance with provisions of amendments to the Armed Forces Reserve Act of 1952 enacted by Congress last summer. Col. Patton explained that the other Executive Order, which in no way affects Selective Service Regulations has to do with the screening of the Ready Reserve.

Under the provisions of the order, the President prescribes means by which persons with critical skills and who are engaged in critical defense supporting industry or in research activity affecting national defense, may enlist in units of the Ready Reserve.

The State Director explained that persons enlisting under this provision of the law must join a unit of the Ready Reserve for eight years. Each enlistee must perform an initial period from three to six months of active duty training and must satisfactorily perform all prescribed training duty during the remainder of the eight-year period. Persons so enlisted may, under certain conditions, be relieved of training duty requirements, but may not be relieved of the retirement that they perform the three to six months' active duty training.

The State Director pointed out that a person so enlisted shall be deferred from induction so long as he continues to serve satisfactorily, and upon completing the eight-year enlistment, he shall become exempt from further liability for induction except in the event of emergency.

It was explained that in selecting applicants for this program, the local board will be guided by the current list of critical occupations issued by the Secretary of Labor, and the current list of essential activities issued by the Secretary of Commerce, as modified from time to time by the Office of Defense Mobilization after consultation with the Secretary of Defense.

To be selected for this program, the State Director explained, the registrant must make application to his local board. Normally, the registrant who is selected must enlist in the proper Ready Reserve within 30 days after his notification of selection is mailed.

The Executive Order on the screening of the Ready Reserve, Colmer Patton explained, is designed to assure that the Ready Reserve will be immediately callable within minimum losses in the event of mobilization. Under this new Regulation, various categories will be screened from the Ready Reserve and transferred to the Standby Reserve, including persons with certain critical skills, in such numbers as are in excess of requirements of the Ready Reserve; certain elective and appointed officials; persons with military skills in excess of requirements to maintain a proper balance of such skills in the Ready Reserve; and persons whose call to active duty in the event of emergency would result in extreme hardship.

In effecting transfers to the Standby Reserve, preference will be given first to those who have participated in combat, and second, those with the least remaining obligated service in the Ready Reserve.

State Park Personnel to Attend Course at University of Mississippi

A two week short course for the state park personnel of 15 Southern states will be held at the University of Mississippi, February 5-17.

Covering eight major areas of park operation the course will seek to train superintendents, rangers and central office personnel of the state parks of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, and West Virginia.

Under "Operation for Public Use" the park personnel will study such subjects as water safety, park safety, and emergency first aid. Lectures on park maintenance will consume a day and a half of the course, and an "Interpretive Programs" section will furnish instruction in recreational opportunities in state parks, administration and operation of nature study programs, and films in interpretive programs.

Other broad areas of study in the course include: "Protection and Law Enforcement," "Business Management," "Information and Education," "Personnel Administration," and "Planning, Development and Construction."

The short course planning committee, which included representatives from Mississippi, Tennessee, North Carolina, Louisiana, and The Southeastern States Park Directors Association, listed the advantages of holding a 15 state joint course as: opportunity for group exchange of ideas, expert instruction, savings through improved use of men and equipment, morale betterment through prestige of completing the course of training, excellent physical and training facilities at the University, opportunity to see broad picture of park use and development and Mississippi's nearby "laboratory" parks for training. Field trips to Spring Lake State Park, Lake Sardis State Park, and Grenada Lake State Park will provide the park personnel with practical training.

Faculty for the short course has been drawn from among outstanding experts in each field of park operation to be covered. For subjects not exclusively related to park operation and maintenance, lecturers from the University and other state and private agencies have been invited.

Ken Bottorf, Jackson, landscape architect, will speak to the park personnel on the "Role of the Landscape Architect in Planning, Development and Construction."

Marilyn Graves MSCW Junior Named Most Typical Teenager To Represent U. S. In Paris

By OUIDA GRAY MULLER
Columbus, Miss., Jan. 19—America's most Typical Teenager is a beautiful brunette at Mississippi State College for women.

Miss Marilyn Graves, 19-year-old MSCW junior from Taylorsville, has just been named to represent the teen-age girls of the United States at an international convocation scheduled in Paris this March.

Announcement of her selection came from "Seventeen" magazine which is endorsing Marilyn at the Parish meeting for the title of "Typical Teenager of the Universe."

"Seventeen" chose the popular MSCW junior as "Miss Young America, Rural USA" only a few months ago. Her activities and achievements were featured in the November issue. On the basis of her accomplishments and her answers submitted to a seven-page questionnaire, Marilyn was selected for the international contest which will feature Typical Teenagers from England, Greece, Egypt and several other countries, including 20 girls from France.

For a farm girl from Jones county, the MSCW student has already piddled a mass of honors. She was awarded a 4-H Club Achievement award this year and her outstanding record in that organization has already made her a national figure in 4-H Club work.

Most amazing to her friends is the fact that Marilyn's personality remains unchanged by all her honors. She's still more concerned about her work as MSCW chairman of the Polio Drive than about what she's going to take to Europe.

"I just don't have any spare time," she says. "If she isn't writing stories for her journalism classes (she's minoring in that), she's writing letters to Mississippi 4-H Club leaders, or she's working on the Wesley Foundation Council. A list of her activities at MSCW includes some 10 organizations. The list is bigger when all her state and national memberships and duties are added. And her activities of junior college and high school and you'll need another sheet of paper."

And when a schedule of classes all day long is considered, her "no spare time" statement is quite believable. Despite her heavy load, Marilyn remains at A and B student.

Her talents run in many directions, too. Marilyn plays the French horn in the MSCW orchestra and can also tackle the piano. She is a member of a social club and spends a great deal of time working with her Methodist religious youth group. She's a member of the staff of the school paper and of several social committees.

At home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Graves, on their farm in Taylorsville, Marilyn does most of the cooking, canning and freezing. She makes her own clothes, except for coats and swim suits, and helps her father and younger brother Reubin with the farm chores.

If all this (and a lot more) make up a Typical Teenager for America, then the other contestants should prove no match for Mississippi's Marilyn Graves.

Veterans Administration said it is centralizing 230,000 GI Insurance accounts in the Philadelphia District Office to reduce the cost of deducting insurance premiums from policyholders' compensation payments.

Improved service to these policyholders also will result from the centralized operation, VA said.

GI insurance policyholders ordinarily pay their own premiums to VA. However, those policyholders who are receiving VA compensation for service-connected disabilities may elect to have VA deduct premiums from compensation payments where the latter are large enough to cover the premiums.

Affected policyholders in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi are being notified of the transfer of their accounts to Philadelphia. In the future, they should address inquiries about their policies to the Philadelphia District Office.

The accounts of Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi veterans making their own premium payments will continue to be maintained in the VA District Office at Denver, Colorado.

VA said the change was made because new electronic equipment already installed at Philadelphia can handle the operation more efficiently and at less cost.

Mississippi Leads In Number Of Tree Farmers

Information recently received by Area Forester Marion Parker reveals that Mississippi has been leading all states in the nation since November 1, 1955, in the number of tree farmers. Mr. Parker stated that Mississippi now has over 800 certified tree farmers and that 13 of these tree farmers are in Hancock County. The first landowner in Hancock County to receive certification as a tree farmer was Mr. Otto Rester, on Rt. 3, Picayune, Miss. Since that time 12 other landowners have become certified tree farmers. In the order in which they were certified, they are: J. S. Shaw, Perkinston, Miss.; James L. Crump Bay St. Louis, International Paper Co., Mobile, Ala.; E. Coney Weston, Kiln, Jack Lott, Kiln, Henry F. Gustine New Orleans, La.; Augustus Elmer, Jr., Pass Christian, Leo W. Seal, Bay St. Louis, W. J. Gex, Jr., Bay St. Louis, Sam Whitfield, Bay St. Louis, Dr. Emmet L. Erwin Bay St. Louis, Clyde A. Brooke, New Orleans, La.

Mere intent on the part of a landowner will not certify him as a tree farmer. He must be practicing good forest management, good fire protection, selective cutting, etc. to become qualified as a tree farmer. Many landowners in Hancock County are qualified to become tree farmers if they would just apply for certification, stated Area Forester Parker. Some landowners believe that they must have their timber land in perfect shape to become qualified. That is not necessary, stated Area Forester Parker. Some landowners do have enough money to do all the timber stand improvement work, planting of pine trees, etc., to put their timber land in good shape and become tree

DAUGHTER BAPTIZED

She was given the name, Virginia Ann. Rev. Father Jerome Roppolo officiating. Her aunt, Mrs. Earl Wilkin is godmother and her uncle Luke S. Elliott, godfather.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman have two other children, Joan Eugenie and son, Raymond Gerard Hoffman, Jr.

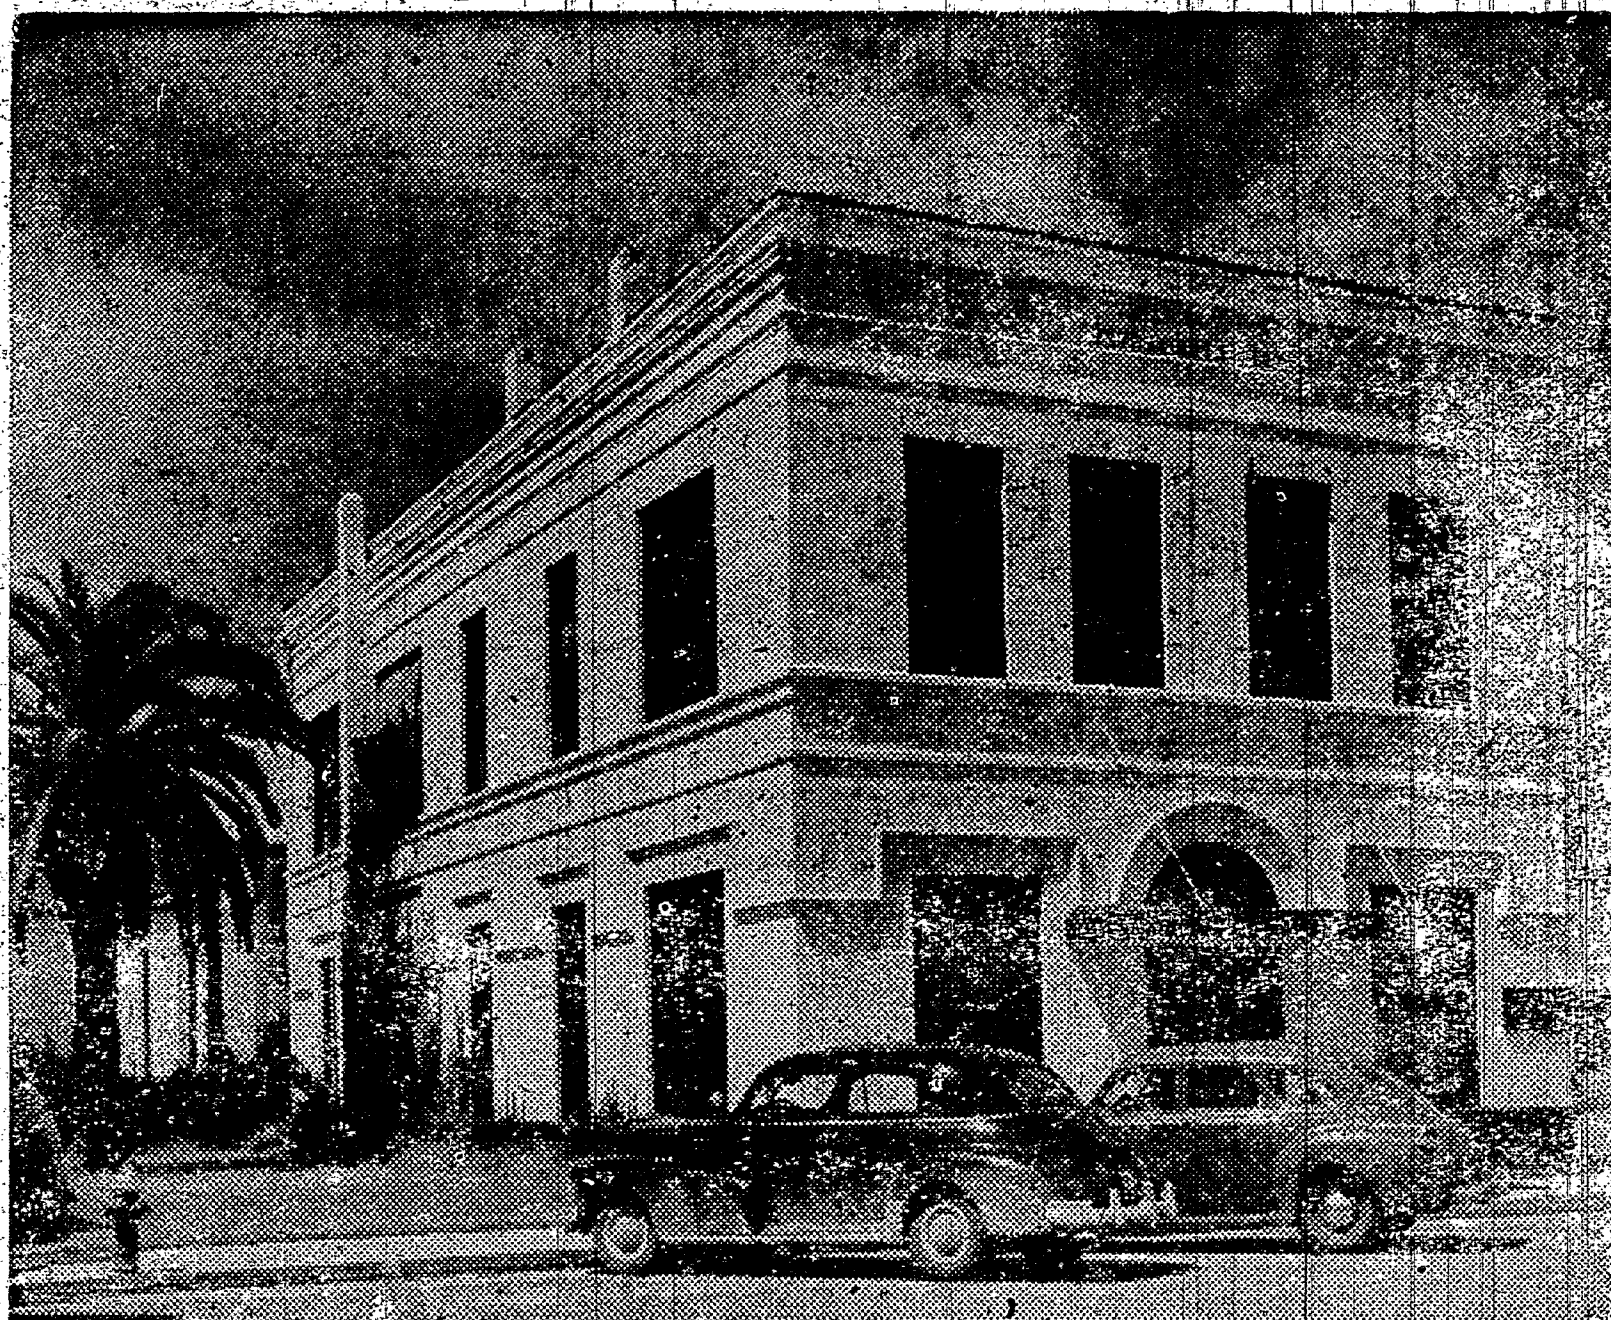

A reception was held at the parents home in Gelpi Avenue, following the religious ceremony.

Those attending were Mrs. Eugene Hoffman, Sr., Mrs. Earl Wilkin, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hartman Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Allen J. Baudry and children, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Keller, all of New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Entente and family, formerly of Los Angeles, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Luke S. Elliott and son, of Baton Rouge, La.; Lieut. and Mrs. Howard Dunn and son of Biloxi, Miss and Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Elliott of Bay St. Louis.

farmers in possibly a year's time. However, many landowners have become qualified tree farmers by following a plan of doing a certain number of acres of timber stand improvement, planting of pine seedlings, etc. each year over a period of years. Landowners who are following such a plan of improving their woodlands are qualified to become certified tree farmers even though they may not have completed the plan to date. Other landowners who have just started doing some timber stand improvement work, or some planting under the 1955 ASC program and are going to do some more deadening and planting, etc. in 1956 are qualified for membership in the tree farm program.

If any landowners in Hancock County are interested in becoming tree farmers and want to help keep Mississippi in the lead in the number of tree farmers, contact Area Forester Marion Parker at Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. He will be happy to look over your timber tract and tell you whether it will qualify for certification as a tree farm.

Gulf Coast Garden Spot

As the country added up its assets and counted its blessings, 1955 went into financial history as a good year.

And the sum total of all the forecasts by the economic experts at the turn of the year was to the effect that 1956 might set new records.

Of course, it is an election year so here will be more politics than usual, and politics does have a way of upsetting people's emotions and the country economy.

Though the effect of politics is mostly psychological, people's feelings do have some influence upon their activities and their pocketbooks.

The Mississippi Gulf Coast certainly ended 1955 in full financial stride and faces 1956 with confidence.

Probably the most promising event in the closing days of 1955 was the discovery of oil in Hancock County.

The magic of Black Gold always performs miracles, and now for the first time we actually have oil along the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Oil is also west of us in Louisiana, southwest of us in the Gulf, east of us in Alabama and in the counties immediately north of us in Mississippi. We can look forward to a lot of exploration and wildcatting in this potential area.

We have also moved apace with new industry in this Gulf Coast community. We have expanded our resort facilities and enjoyed an increased tourist business; we have improved our port facilities and have handled more shipping; payrolls have multiplied and merchants have broken sales records. Harrison County is second only to Hinds County as a wholesale distributing center.

And banking resources have been on the rise as a conservative and constructive citizenship plans its future. When a people lives within its means, pays its debts and puts something by for tomorrow, the only way it can go is to go forward. So this Garden Spot grows into one of the Deep South's Golden Opportunities.

Alden Maufrey and Joe Scharf have been playing regularly, but they won't give their scores.

Tony Enterante and Son Nino formerly of Los Angeles, Calif., and now of New Orleans will spend the week end at Bay and hope to do some fishing.

Harold Bates, a strictly bait fisherman has been getting a few fish by the hardest he says. Something must be wrong!

Fight fans have been getting their money's worth on the TV of late. With New Orleans boys fighting next Thursday night at Bay High for the March of Dimes benefit you can look for a packed house on Feb. 9th. Ralph Dupas will referee some of the bouts.

The younger golf fans of the Bay—Teddy Morel, Bud Pitale, Lucas Pecheu, Jake Morreale and Jeffery Favre, have a lot of fun on the weekends at the Pass Christian Isles Golf Course. Their game is progressing rapidly. Ask any of them!

LOSING GAME?

Ever tried pitching rings over these elusive pegs at the carnival? Your chances of winning are slim. Same is true when you turn your back on your hometown. Want to purchase goods outside of Mississippi. The dollars you spend at home or anywhere in Mississippi turn over four times and create new business which benefits you either directly or indirectly. These pyramiding dollars not only create business but provide added tax dollars which in turn tend to reduce your tax spent outside of Mississippi seldom if ever returns. Be smart, "BUY IN MISSISSIPPI!"
